

John Emil Petersen III, M.S., Ph.D.
Owner, Founder, and CEO
N-Dimensional Engineering & goodcheapsites.com
ceo@n-dtech.com
ceo@goodcheapsites.com
(520) 304-7534
PO Box 60256
Corpus Christi, TX 78466

ATTN: Legal Department
Tesla, Inc (non-licensee)
1 Tesla Road
Austin, TX 78725

Greetings, friends from the valley have informed me that reverse engineering your new driver chip on the new Tesla motors concludes that you have been using my PID algorithm without my express written consent. Please check for details. The registered copyright I hold on the PID algorithm, along with the statement on my github page, reading, "this PID algorithm cannot be used for profit in whole or in part without express written consent of John E. Petersen III." Since your motors were completely redesigned after your goons [read: racketeers] paid me a visit in Tucson, Arizona last year (Home Depot footage), it would appear you have a larger problem on your hands than merely intellectual property infringement.

<http://n-dtech.com/news>

If this were to go to civil trial, this might get a bit messy on your end, since criminal allegations are flying around, and most of the racketeers were foreigners from South Africa and other regions. I would suggest you pay me, the licensor, the full $1 billion, to avoid any further scandal – especially, since your CFO just resigned, and the news media is beginning to ask questions.

yearly licensing fee	dollars (millions)
2021	$111.00
2022	$111.00
2023	$111.00
Past Due Total	$333.00

Or, pay the following amount: $1,000.00
to be issued a permanent license.